

Livescribe Pulse

Overview:

The Livescribe Pulse smart pen records your notes in two ways: it creates digital copies of everything you write by hand while recording audio at the same time.

It also goes one step further and links the two together, so you can quickly access audio by tapping parts of your notes. All of this is uploaded to your computer where the Livescribe software archives and makes your notes fully searchable with integration into Microsoft® Office. In addition, it offers features like a calculator and translator plus handwriting recognition capabilities.

Reasons to have the Livescribe Pulse:

- The Livescribe Pulse fundamentally changes the way you capture, access and share information with pen and paper, ensuring you'll never miss a word
- The Livescribe Pulse, with its low-cost mobile computing platform, provides an integrated system of smart pen, dot paper, applications, and development tools designed to enhance personal productivity, learning, communication and self expression
