

Ribbit for Salesforce provided by BT

Voice-enabled mobile productivity

Ribbit for Salesforce is an easy-to-use, voice-enabled mobile productivity service that links mobile voice communication to Salesforce CRM. Mobile calls, voice messages and text transcriptions automatically flow into the Salesforce CRM application. This means you can play, read, store, search and act on voice communications within your CRM web environment.

It's like having a personal assistant to speed the right information to the right person at the right time – all of the time. Sales people can keep selling, wherever and whenever. With Ribbit in hand, automating the flow of communication has never been easier.

Reasons to have Ribbit for Salesforce:

- Rated Best Mobile App of 2008 by Salesforce.com US customers
- Link mobile phones to salesforce.com and email
- Voice to text conversion of voice messages
- Call in sales notes instead of typing

Benefits of Ribbit for Salesforce:

- Use your time more efficiently – Automatic voice-to-text conversion speeds information to the right place, right away. Calls, voice memos, and voicemail flow into Salesforce CRM, eliminating the need to type updates. Your team can read voicemail or dictate email on the go
- All talk, no type – It's a simple fact, most people talk faster than they type. With superior voice recognition software, you can now call in your sales activities and reminders instead of typing them. Your voice memos are automatically converted to text files and MP3 links that flow into Salesforce CRM
- Maximise your time whilst on the move – Dictate a follow-up email on the move while ideas are fresh in your mind. This means no more forgotten tasks or delayed communications
- Simple and sophisticated – Ribbit for Salesforce is an easy-to-use, web-based service. No middleware or software downloads are required. And it's fast. In fact, basic set-up and user activation for your company take less than 15 minutes and, once deployed, is automatically linked to the Salesforce CRM interface.
